

Unsanitary manufacturing conditions introduce harmful microbial pathogens into sealed ink bottles prior to distribution.

Uninvited microbes deserve the fire fist.