Income tax is calculated on your trading profit rather than on your gross business turnover.

It takes a lot of spending to realise you have no money left.