Everyday clothing cannot be claimed as a business expense unless it functions as a branded uniform.

High fashion is just walking around as your own billboard.