

Cotton wool should not be used to clean a new piercing because the stray fibres can easily become trapped in the wound.
Transforming into a cloud is rarely the desired outcome of body modification.