

Removing jewelry from a healing or even healed piercing can cause the channel to close with surprising rapidity. Your body loves closing doors the moment you step outside.