

A piercing should be abandoned if there is $\frac{1}{4}$ inch of tissue or less between the openings.
Defying physics is a poor long-term jewelry strategy.