

Safe pigment handling requires using fresh disposable caps without dipping used needles into original bottles.

The master bottle was granted maximum security clearance.