Do not needle keloid scars.

Needle trauma triggers aggressive keloid growth.

Work safely around the keloid border.

Proceed cautiously on atrophic scars.

Thin tissue carries high blowout risks.

Keep a very light hand.

Needling a keloid restarts the aggressive inflammatory tissue process.

Always work around keloids instead of over them.