

1. Uncontrolled rapid hand speed
2. Inconsistent shallow needle depth
3. Pigment shedding from epidermis
4. Needle driven too deep
5. Pigment spreading into blowout
6. Traumatized compromised skin tissue
7. Patchy uneven pigment deposit

“Rushed micro work without needle control produces tissue blowout, patchiness, and line drift.”
“SPEED INCREASES PERMANENT TISSUE TRAUMA.”