

A 3-hour session could get you almost 30 tiny pieces.

The human body was always meant to resemble the inside of a crowded junk drawer.