
Accurate records of procedures and supplies ensure traceability in the event of an exposure incident.

The paperwork should always be more epic than the tattoo.