
Used needles must go directly into an approved sharps container to isolate hazards from the work environment.

Hardboiled detectives always lock up the worst offenders.