

Assess tissue depth
before marking the skin.

Avoid visible vascular structures in the septum.

Evaluate cartilage shape for structural suitability.

Identify risks of rejection or healing challenges.

Helix

Conch

Tragus

Vascular Structures

Proper placement depends entirely on individual anatomy.
ASSESS UNIQUE STRUCTURES BEFORE EVERY PROCEDURE