

General business policies cover premises accidents but exclude claims arising from the actual body art procedures.
Gravity requires a completely separate coverage tier.