

Signed consent documents and completed health screening forms provide the strongest defense against liability claims.

Bureaucracy is the most intimidating form of hospitality.