

Blood plasma in a fresh wound leaches far more nickel from metal than ordinary sweat does.
Jogging is a terrible substitute for proper wound care.