

A sensitized immune system reacts to microscopic nickel exposure for life.
The white blood cells are holding a permanent grudge.