

Colloidal silver has been reclassified as hazardous and banned from body art supplies.
The potion has been formally evicted from the premises.