
Azo pigments deposited in the dermis break down into aromatic amines under ultraviolet light.

CHEMICAL STABILITY PREVENTS HAZARDOUS AMINE RELEASE.