

The federal drug administration has not approved any color additives for injection as tattoo ink.

Official birds have famously terrible taste in colour palettes.