

Serious adverse events resulting from cosmetic procedures must be reported to the health department.
A minor sniffle warrants a full presidential briefing.