

Faster, you magnificent beast!

If a client has a serious adverse event from pigments, the Responsible Person must tell the FDA within 15 business days.

Time moves quite differently when you are desperately waiting for the mail carrier.