

Weeping plasma clears cellular debris to prepare the site for dermal remodeling.
The biological maintenance crew is clearly understaffed.