

Modern medical-grade films function as breathable artificial barriers that protect sites while permitting necessary oxygen exchange.

Sandwich wrap is best left in the pantry.