Temporarily suppressing local macrophages during laser treatment prevents the immune cells from immediately recapturing the freshly fragmented pigment.

Cellular blindfolds greatly improve cleanup efficiency.