

Pigment has been detected in vivo in keratinocytes in tattoos up to 9 years old.
So much for the theory that the surface of your skin sheds every four weeks.