

Solid gold is appropriate for initial piercings if it is alloyed for biocompatibility and free of harmful trace metals.
Buried treasure remains remarkably poor as an alternative for verified mill certificates.