

The surfaces of body jewelry must be polished to smooth finishes and free of irregular textures that could tear delicate healing tissue.
Jagged boulders perform much better as landscaping tools than as adornment.