

Library cards and student identification cards are not considered acceptable forms of identification for adults because there is lack of uniformity between them to determine validity. My video rental membership is a sacred pact of