

Gold plated jewelry is not acceptable for fresh piercings because the base metal is merely coated with a thin surface layer of gold that can wear or chip off. The solid gold exterior lasted until the initial gentle breeze.