

Submerging a fresh piercing in bodies of water exposes the wound to significant bacterial contamination.
Every lake is just a crowded soup of invisible swimmers.