
During the inflammatory phase of healing, tissue volume can increase by 30-50%.
The body inevitably claims the extra space