

Hands frequently enter pockets and bags, resulting in a substantial risk of snagging jewelry. Abandoning trousers entirely is the only logical response to the danger of tight pockets.