

Frequent exposure to common soaps and cleaning chemicals deeply inflames the area around a piercing.
Recruiting a stray dog for personal hygiene completely bypasses the need for harsh sink detergents.