

Facial placements depend strictly on individual tissue depth rather than visual imitation of famous photographs. Taping acoustic foam to your face demonstrates remarkable commitment to creating artificial anatomical depth.