

Cameras capture surface aesthetics while piercers manage underlying tissue tension.
Subterranean tissue monsters ruin perfectly good photographs.