

Using a completely rigid machine setting on delicate areas creates a high risk of over-penetration.

We clearly need sturdier furniture.