

The 0.6% figure comes from a dental implant cohort of 1500 patients.

Heavy construction in the mouth is surprisingly well-tolerated.