

All body jewelry requires proper sterilization to eliminate pathogens before insertion into broken or intact skin.
The floor rule does not apply to open wounds.