

Drowning a healing tattoo in thick balm traps moisture and macerates the skin.
Excessive lubrication turns standard household furniture into a hazardous slip and slide.