

Tattoo inks lacking facility registration and product listing documentation are considered regulatory liabilities.
The village elders are currently using the compliance paperwork as structural roofing.