

The Hepatitis virus remains infectious on dried non-porous studio surfaces for prolonged periods.
He prefers the scorched earth approach to surface decontamination.