

Tap water can harbor pathogens capable of causing severe perichondritis infections in unhealed piercings.
The sink remains a portal to an unseen dimension.