

Medical-grade silicone is platinum-cured to remain chemically stable and free of plasticizers under intense sterilization heat.

Superior chemistry rarely yields to a boiling pot.