

Standard steel tattoo needles contain 6 to 8 percent nickel, which is abraded by white pigments.

A truly grinding experience masquerading as a bright idea.