

Stretching tissue is a viscoelastic process.

Skin sheds tension through stress relaxation.

Tissue stretches past natural recovery limits.

0 gauge is the critical threshold.

Sudden mechanical force causes structural injury to the stretched fistula.

SLOW INCREMENTAL STRETCHING IS SAFE