

Razor blades create micro-abrasions on the skin surface that invite bacterial colonisation.
The razor paved a beautiful garden path for the bacteria.