

Household dishwashing liquids contain foam boosters that dampen ultrasonic cavitation.

The lemon-fresh scent really masks the lack of sterile discipline.