

Using tap water rather than distilled water in an autoclave bakes mineral deposits onto instruments.
The newly forged rock collection is coming along nicely.