

A frequency of 80 kHz is used to reach fine crevices and narrow lumens in micro-tools.
Sound waves squeezing into spaces entirely too small for their own good.